knopfler - product information

LÖFFLER has designed office chairs that take our inborn urge to move into account and are therefore good for our health for decades - simply, naturally and excellently designed. ERGO TOP is a seating concept which offers the body the scope to move the way it needs to. Our bodies know what is best for them - and LÖFFLER seating gives them the freedom to do it. Stimulation without strain is the guiding principle for healthy sitting. Sitting as a pleasantly stimulating experience to promote physical and mental fitness.

knopfler, spacious and inviting, promises comfort and invites immediate trust and appreciation. The knopfler range's three different back heights meet all needs in terms of both functionality and design: 72 cm, 85 cm or 98 cm. Seat and back covered in either fabric or leather. Padded arm supports in either leather or fabric and always adjustable in all three directions. Frame: X base made from die cast aluminium, finish either black or polished.

Löffler has developed a unique addition to the synchronous mechanism: the patented ERGO TOP technology, a fully flexible seat, enabling the sitter to tilt the seat forward to encourage the recommended upright posture. ERGO TOP also allows the seat to move sideways, prompting the pelvis to tip and tilt very much as it would naturally when walking, thus providing exercise for the spine's neuromuscular stabilisation mechanisms.

Usual seated posture:
Sitting on a good quality, but conventional office swivel chair (no backrest contact) leads to rounded back development, there is hardly any muscle activity. The spinal discs harden - leading invariably to back complaints.

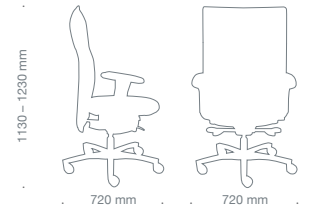

ERGO TOP - fully flexible seat:
the spinal discs retain their elasticity, the gentle movement ensures a constant supply of nutrients.

Ergonomic seated posture with ERGO TOP:
the pelvis is automatically tipped forward, yet the body stays in an overall upright position - even without touching the backrest.

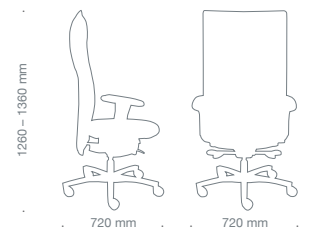

The ERGO TOP result:
a strong, well-trained back.
